The question isn't if our country needs a stronger, cleaner economic future, but how we can make this happen.

Join us to hear Ed Whittingham, Executive Director of the Pembina Institute, and Michael Crothers, President & Country Chair of Shell Canada, outline how business and environmental sectors can move beyond conflict to help Canada achieve economic and environmental prosperity.

Marking the one year anniversary of Alberta's climate plan announcement, both leaders will also reflect on their unlikely alliance and the role it played in this landmark policy and what climate action means for Canada going forward.
